RESORT TO ARMS IS

THREATENED AT VANCOUVER.

Situation There, Owing to the Japanese, Growing Desperate, Steps Being Urged for Self-Protection.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 23.—Strong language was used by members of Vancouver in the British Columbia Parliament, discussing the proposed Japanese emigration.

Mr. Macowman declared that the situation was growing desperate at Vancouver and if the aggression continued it seemed probable that a resort to arms would occur for self-protection. He said the Japanese at Vancouver were thoroughly armed and if steps were not taken to disarm them, Vancouver citizens would arm themselves.

Dr. McGuire of Vancouver, suggested that the amount of $25,000,000 held to be due British Columbia should be used to provide armored cruisers which would assist to defend the Pacific seaboard of Canada and urgent steps should be taken, whether Japan opposed it or not, to exclude the Japanese.

A Cure for Misery.

"I have found a cure for the misery malaria poison produces," says R. M. James of Louellen, S. C. "It's called Electric Bitters, and comes in 50-cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in almost no time; and it puts yellow jaundice clean out of commission." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at the Red Cross pharmacy, Rickett & Wells.

4,000 SHIP BUILDERS ON

STRIKE IN TYNE DISTRICT.

Men Refuse to Accept Reduction in Their Wages.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, Jan. 23.—The threatened strike in the shipbuilding industry in the Tyne district became a fact yesterday when some 4,000 men, who had refused the proposed reduction in their wages, did not return to work. The employers declare the reduction is necessary, owing to the depression in the industry. Some ports on the north-east coast also are affected.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW YORK. (INCORPORATED.)

OF UNTOLD VALUE.

The Information Contained in This Citizen's Statement Is Priceless.

The hale, the hearty, the strong can afford to toss this paper to one side impatiently when they read the following, but any sufferer in Barre who has suffered hours of torture caused by kidney complaint will stand in his own light if he does not follow the valuable advice offered here.

L. H. Hooker, retired, of 101 Prospect street, Barre, Vt., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at E. A. Brown's, did me more good than all the prescriptions and other remedies I ever used. Over eight years ago I gave a statement for publication telling what they had done for me, and to-day I have even more confidence in them. I had suffered for a long time from kidney complaint, and my condition was finally considered serious. My back ached nearly all the time, and the action of my kidneys was disordered. I at last resorted to Doan's Kidney Pills and received wonderful relief. I use this remedy occasionally now, and have recommended it to dozens of people, many of whom have been so greatly benefited that they have come back and thanked me for telling them of this valuable medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

CABOT

Miss Nettie Morrill is visiting friends in Worcester.

Mrs. Anna Preston returned last week from several weeks' visit in Worcester, Mass.

Rev. W. L. Jennings went to his old home in Ayron, Mass., last week for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walbridge are visiting relatives in Gilmantown, N. H., and other places.

Mrs. Jessie Gates, who has been caring for Mrs. Laura Lyford has gone to her home in Montpelier.

E. P. Walbridge captured sweepstakes at the sugar makers' association on an all around exhibit of sugar.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Peck were called to Stowe recently by the dangerous illness of Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. Peck's son.

Mrs. Hattie Wood of West Barre is keeping house for Mrs. Frank Walbridge while they are in New Hampshire.

Cabot creamery company does not intend to fall in the rear of other creameries as its products scored 93 at the dairymen's association held at Rutland.

The entertainment to be given by the 9th grade scholars in town hall will take place in the evening of Jan. 21, consisting of music, recitations, originals, etc. The village school will present a farce from "The Lady of the Lake." All free.

Daniel Rogers, a worthy and respected citizen and a life long resident of Cabot died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. J. Norris, Thursday morning after an illness of only one day, at the advanced age of 84 years. Mr. Rogers was a sturdy farmer. He was a grandson of one of the first settlers in town, for several years he had not been able to do any work and was a constant care to his companion who died only about a week previous to his decease. He leaves three sons and one daughter. The funeral services were held at his home Saturday afternoon, Rev. F. E. Currier officiating. His remains were laid to rest in the family lot in Lower village cemetery.

CHELSEA.

Asa H. Pepper of Washington was a business visitor in town Tuesday.

Hon. J. K. Darling is confined to his house by a serious attack of rheumatism, which has centralized in one hip.

Stanley C. Wilson was in Thetford Center Monday to attend professionally a session of probate court of the Bradford district.

Francis Laidt has refused to be again commissioned town game warden on the ground that the compensation does not cover the labor performed.

Miss Mary McKenzie, who works for Mrs. Hale K. Darling, is spending a short vacation at her home in Corinth, and her place is being filled by her sister, Miss Fannie McKenzie.

Mrs. Amanda Allen of Barre was here last week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Ellen Hood and remained in town for a few days, the guest of Mrs. Orrin Bacon of the upper village.

Ell Leggett, who lived in the house belonging to Fillmore Edwards that was burned Saturday, has moved his family and a few other families south of Globe they had occasion to dismount. They had scarcely left their horses when a huge rattler struck Frank on the left leg about three inches above the ankle.

The reason from the fangs of the snake caused excruciating pain for the moment. His brother, Fred, realizing what had happened, shot a rabbit, split its body and bound it over the bite. They then returned to Globe as quickly as possible. Mr. Pascoe was exhausted when he reached Globe, but said he was suffering very little. His friends will be glad to know that on account of the timely attention there is no cause for alarm about his condition.—Tombstone Epitaph.

PLAINFIELD.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis of the Profile House, N. H., spent Tuesday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Wilks.

Miss Ella Richard has returned to her home in Milton, Mass., after spending several months with her aunt, Mrs. DeForest Noble.

FARMER KILLED, BODY COVERED WITH BOUGHS.

Andrew Higgins of Baileyville, Me., Probably Murdered—Face of Dead Man Battered By Blows.

Calais, Jan. 23.—A probable murder is being investigated today by the town and county officials is the town of Baileyville, better known as Woodland, 10 miles from here. The body of Andrew Higgins, a Baileyville farmer, aged 70 years, was found a short distance from his camp.

His face was badly battered. This, coupled with other circumstances, including the fact that the body was partially covered with boughs, led the officials to believe he had been killed by another.

A coroner's inquest has been called.

Higgins had not been seen since Saturday. His body was found by Benjamin King and Thomas Sprague, who, while walking along a path near the camp, discovered blood spots on the ground. Following the trail they found the body. The camp is located on the Higgins farm. Since the death of Mrs. Higgins, several years ago, it had been occupied by Higgins, who was inclined to be erratic, although of a genial disposition. His only child, Miss Clara Higgins, lives here.

The selectmen investigated a story that a tramp had stopped with the victim a part of last week and stole some clothing from him. According to the story, the tramp returned after being absent a day or two and was last seen there on Monday.

Higgins had no known enemies. It is believed he was clubbed over the head with some blunt instrument and his body dragged to the place where it was found.

TWO DEAD IN TOBACCO WAR.

Attempt to Dynamite Factory at Clarksville, Tenn.

Clarksville, Tenn., Jan. 23.—An attempt was made last night to burn and dynamite the loose tobacco factory of the Hayes-Sorey Tobacco Co., local representatives of the Italian Rogies. Two negroes were killed while trying to escape. One other negro escaped, but is thought to have been wounded. An investigation showed that the door of the factory had been saturated with coal oil and four sticks of dynamite placed against it. When the bodies of the two negroes were searched sticks of dynamite were found on their persons in sufficient quantities to wreck the building.

The St. Maurice valley, in the Canadian province of Quebec, contains fields of natural gas believed to be comparable in magnitude to the biggest fields in the United States. The cost of such gas for manufacturing purposes at Three Rivers is 20 cents per 1,000 feet.

Grenades From the Diamond.

Hand grenades, which were used in action by the Japanese against the Russians, are to be introduced into the army, and, since America is, as the Scientific American points out, a nation of baseball players, great things should be accomplished with the new weapon.

A picked company of pitchers could lead every charge and, every man picking out an imaginary plate, a hundred deadly grenades would go hurtling upon the paralyzed foe—a glorious prospect, and one that should materially aid recruiting both for the big leagues and the army.

To complete the rout of the enemy the diamond grenades might be followed by the grilling guards, who would have no difficulty in pulverizing the line of their already demoralized opponents.—New York American.

Stranger Cure For Snake Bites.

Recently Frank and Fred Pascoe rode out of town on some business. When about five miles south of Globe they had occasion to dismount. They had scarcely left their horses when a huge rattler struck Frank on the left leg about three inches above the ankle. The reason from the fangs of the snake caused excruciating pain for the moment. His brother, Fred, realizing what had happened, shot a rabbit, split its body and bound it over the bite. They then returned to Globe as quickly as possible. Mr. Pascoe was exhausted when he reached Globe, but said he was suffering very little. His friends will be glad to know that on account of the timely attention there is no cause for alarm about his condition.—Tombstone Epitaph.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Another Good Play.

The McAliff company in "Confessions of a Wife."

Another large audience greeted the Jere McAliff stock company last night at the opera house, when the melodrama, "Confessions of a Wife," was played.

This clever company again proved its merit, as was evinced by the frequent outbursts of applause appreciative of the good work done. The scene of the play begins in Pineville, Vermont, at the home of Simon Rutherford, a village blacksmith, who resides with his daughter, Alice, and his sister, Hannah, the latter of whom plays the part of a conspiring spinster, whose sole aim in life seems to be to humiliate her niece. Miss Augusta Perry, who plays the leading feminine role as Alice Rutherford, having several years previously made "Her One False Step," maintains a character of truth and love for an outcast son, and is ably supported by her father, her brother-in-law, "Basil Ashmore," a clergyman, "Pete Quillet," the editor of the Pineville "Finger" and "Betty Bloom," Miss Burke Eldridge, as "Ella Newcomb," and Tom Calder, the former husband of Alice Rutherford, work the villainous end of the game to perfection, and although they create a strong prejudice in the minds of the audience from the start of the play, the roles taken are well read. The specialties, including Jere McAliff, who sings some exceedingly funny parodies, Al. W. Wilson, the clever ventriloquist, and Fred Marten, who sings, were well rendered and greatly appreciated.

This evening's production, "Outcasts of Society," should prove a strong and attractive drama.

On Friday night the bill of the week, "Why Women Sin," will be presented.

Fenberg Stock Co.

It is with much satisfaction that the local management of the Barre opera house announces the engagement of the Fenberg Stock Co. for the week of Jan. 27. This season, Mr. Fenberg will present to the people of Barre one of the best acting companies on the road and one that is sure to meet with favor during their stay in our city. The company includes such clever people as Lawrence Brooks, F. J. Harvey, Ben. F. Mack, Stanley Bloom, George Lellevin, Chas. Hammond, Harry Rafferty, Goldie Cleveland, Sadie Attwood, Pauline Hammond, Madge Olson, Marie McNeil, Lotta Chase and others. Numerous high class specialties are introduced between the acts. The opening play for Monday will be "Why He Divorced Her." Ladies' tickets limited to 200 have been issued and won't be reserved after 6:30 Monday.

FARMER'S FIGHT WITH SWANS.

Flock of Big Birds Attack Japanese and His Plough Horses.

A Japanese farmer, one of the many who have leased much land around Russellville on the Base Line road, had a most thrilling adventure with the flock of white swans recently. He was out ploughing in his field, so E. H. Emery says, when suddenly several hundred swans made their appearance. At first he paid no attention, but they soon began circling close down on him. Then they made a sudden sweep and nearly knocked him down.

The swans renewed the attack on the Japanese with more vigor than ever. They dashed at him and struck him in passing from all directions. He sought to drive them off by swinging his hat, but that had no effect. He then ran to the nearest fence followed by part of the flock, and seeing a rail defended him but still the swans attacked him until he had knocked down several.

The horse which the Japanese had left hitched to the plough was also attacked by more than a score of the angry birds. The animal did the best he could to defend himself with his heels and teeth while his owner was wading the rail at his assailants. Suddenly the whole flock by an impulse took flight, leaving the Japanese master of the battlefield.

"It was the most remarkable and comical sight I ever witnessed," remarked Mr. Emery. "The Japanese certainly had his hands full. Part of the time he was half covered by the swans. He fought with the same determination that his comrades fought the Russians. The ground around where the fight took place was strewn with feathers.—Portland Oregonian.
